SAFETY AND SECURITY

Safety and security is our FIRST priority in British Airways.

The British Airways Global Learning Academy (GLA) is located inside the main British Airways Engineering Base at London Heathrow Airport. This is a very busy operational area. Exercise caution and observe all safety and security instructions.

Do not breach any security procedures. Do not access any restricted areas or aircraft. Do not use your pass to allow access to anyone else. Failure to abide by security procedures will result in denial of access or immediate removal from the Engineering Base and may lead to prosecution.

To gain access to British Airways Flight Training, you will first need to report to Vanguard House (Pass Issue) where you will be met by your host and be issued with your security pass.

Vanguard House is open between 05:30 – 23:00 hrs, seven days a week. Outside of these times, you will meet your host at the entrance to Vanguard House and they will arrange for your security pass to be issued.

SECURITY PASS

You will be required to show one form of photographic identification such as your passport or UK photographic driving licence. Failure to do so will prevent a security pass being issued and denial of access. Your security pass must be worn and be visible at all times. It must be returned at the end of your visit.

Please allow up to 15 minutes to obtain your security pass.

There is a 10 minute walk from Vanguard House to British Airways Flight Training in Technical Block A. This walk is open to the elements. Please be prepared for inclement weather and dress accordingly!
